Social Studies

We focused on Martin Luther King Jr. this week as well as New Year's goals the students can accomplish.

Math

We discussed word problems and the strategies that we used to determine whether we need to add or subtract. We also continued to practice counting to 100! Some of them already know how to count to 100. At this time, the students are now expected to count to seventy five. The students have also been counting to 100 by 2s, 5s and 10s. We have calendar time during math every day. The students continue to learn our days of the week song, months of the year song and seasons every day.

Language Arts/Reading/Writing

The students are continuing to practice reading to self and work on writing. Please have your child read the books and reading comprehension packets sent home every Friday to you three times to practice sight words and fluency. Our sight words this week were: four, saw, well, ran, brown. Our sight words for next week are: eat, who, new, must, black

Theology

We spoke about the dignity of work, especially what Adam's job was in the bible. I reviewed the book Blueberries for Sal. The students were able to tell me how Sal and her mother worked hard by picking blueberries with their hands, put them in a bucket, canned them for the Winter and ate them. We also talked about the bears and how they eat blueberries off the bushes to store up fat for Winter. Then, the students matched babies to their mothers on worksheets. The students wrote notes to thank some of our administrative team for their work in the school. We spoke about how Jesus is special.

Science

---

We focused on introducing reading packets this week.
