

Junior Kindergarten Newsletter Week of October 12, 2021

Academics

1. We will be reviewing all of the letters we have learned so far. I will be doing a more formal assessment and send the results of that home. It can help inform our discussion for Parent/Teacher conferences which are on November 4 and 5th.
2. In math we will continue working on number sense skills and concepts of comparison.
3. Our focus for religious education is on Baptism. If you have any pictures of your student at baptism that would be great. I will send them back when we are done. I hope the idea of baptism will be less abstract when they can see their own baptism.
4. We are continuing to look at the seasons. I just introduced Winter.

Books

“Stellaluna” by Janell Cannon. We will be doing a Venn diagram where we compare birds with bats.

Other

1. The school will be closed on Monday the 11th.

2. JK will have a Halloween party on the 29th. They can wear costumes. I will let you know more about the dress code for that event. I will take pictures of your student and if you do not mind text them to you after the event. I would like to have a “Fall Harvest” that day in the classroom.
